Decoration day, May 30, exercises will be held at the court house campus at 10 o'clock. Rev. Richard S. Haney, pastor of the Second Congregational church, Moline, will be the principal orator. In securing Rev. Haney, the committee from John Burford post, G. A. R., in charge of the program, feel they are extremely fortunate. Both the father and grandfather of the Moline man, were veterans. "Uncle Dick" Haney being especially well known here in the earlier days. He was chaplain during the great civil strife and was a circuit rider for the Methodist church.

Big Parade Follows.
Following the close of the exercises at the court house campus, a parade will be conducted. The Burford post, G. A. R., the Woman's Relief Corps, the Spanish War Veterans, and other patriotic bodies will participate in the demonstration.

Members of Company A, Sixth Infantry, Illinois National guard, will also march in the parade, which will proceed to Chippinnock cemetery, where additional services will be held. The graves of the departed soldiers will be decorated with flags and flowers and a salute given by the members of Company A.

P. F. Cox is chairman of the committee.

HORSE STRAYS ON TRACKS; IS KILLED

Collision Near Milan Bridge De-rails Car but Passengers Escape Unhurt.

A valuable buggy horse belonging to A. R. Schaum, who lives near the old toll gate at the Milan bridges was instantly killed as the result of being struck by a south bound Milan street car at 8:20 last evening. The force of the collision lifted the front trucks from the track, the fender sliding over the animal's body.

There were only a few passengers on the car at the time and all escaped injury. The horse had been in a pasture during the day and in some manner got through the fence and wandered out on the track in the darkness as the car approached. The motor man had not time to stop. J. Andree, motorman, and S. Steele, conductor, were in charge of the car which was not damaged. The accident occurred about 150 feet south of the second bridge.

DOG HAS SMALLPOX? DAVENPORT WONDERS

Davenport health authorities are wondering if it is possible for a dog to contract smallpox. Yesterday the police were summoned to kill a dog which had taken ill at the home of James Moon, 692 Federal street, the place being under quarantine because of smallpox. Whether the animal was suffering with the same disease as the human beings under the same roof no one is prepared to say.

At the same place, immediately after the discovery of the nature of the disease affecting Mr. and Mrs. Moon, the latter gave birth to a baby. The father was carried off to the pest house but the mother was allowed to remain at home under quarantine.

CARRIED FIFTEEN DOLLARS IN SHOE

Separation of Herman Totmeyerer From Cash Proves a Painful Process.

WIFE PREFERS COMPLAINT

Story Leads Magistrate to Extract All
Husband's Cash but 25 Cents for Helpmate.

Carrying three $5 bills in his shoe, Herman Totmeyer, living at Thirty-fifth street and Fourteenth avenue, stoutly denied to his wife and the police magistrate in court this morning that he had any money. Not until threatened with a long sentence did he "come across."

The wife's story was a sad one. Mrs. Totmeyer caused the arrest of her husband last evening and this morning appeared against him. In telling her story to Magistrate Smith, she stated that the rent was due, and that she had no money to pay it.

She charged that Totmeyer instead of turning over his wages to her, spent them for drink, and she was backed in her statements by her 8-year-old son, who accompanied her.

During the course of her tale the woman burst into tears, and the little lad seated beside her followed the action of his mother, using his cap in lieu of a handkerchief.

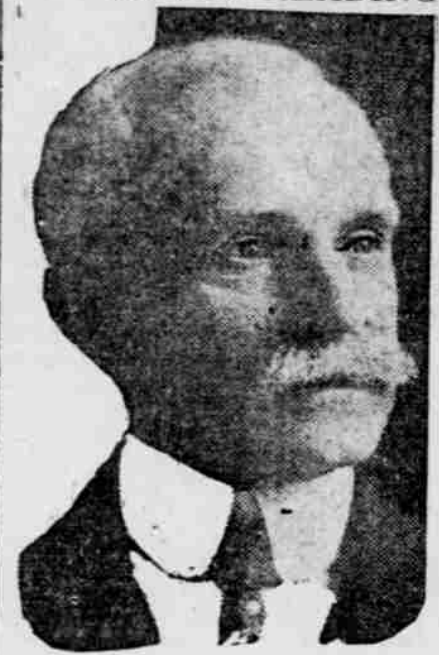

Totmeyer denied the story told by his wife, but finally after he learned that the court was impressed by the story of the woman and boy he changed his mind and treated the matter more seriously.

It was finally learned that he had about $5 coming from the steel mills where he had worked. He signed an order for the money to be turned over to his wife.

Confesses Shoe is His Bank.
Next he stated that he had $15 hidden in his home. After considerable discussion and threats of a long sentence, he said that he had it stowed away in the barn in the rear of his home. Finally, however, he told the court that he would get the money, and led by Officer Ginnane, he left the courtroom and removed his left shoe. He drew forth $15 and reluctantly turned it over to his wife.

Then $1.25 taken from his pockets

FURTHER WORK ON STREAM DELAYED

Contrary to General Belief, Bill
Carries $1,500,000 Appropriation for Upper River.

ACTION EXPECTED SOON

Improvement of Mississippi at Standstill at Present but Will Likely Be Resumed Shortly.

Contrary to the general belief in Rock Island, the rivers and harbors bill provides for funds for work on the Mississippi river above the mouth of the Ohio. Information received from the United States engineers' office here is to the effect that the measure provides for an appropriation of $1,500,000 for the improvement of the upper division of the stream.

Usually by this time of the year the appropriation has been made by congress. The rivers and harbors bill has already passed the house of representatives, and local United States river officials believe that it will be adopted by the senate within a short time. The measure received a big vote, almost unanimous, in the lower house.

Lack of Work Gives Idea.

The impression here that no provision for work on the upper part of the stream had been made, was likely the result of the practical standstill of river work. This is occasioned by the fact that the appropriation has not as yet passed congress.

The only work on the river at present is deepening the channel at St. Paul. One large dredge is at work on the stream at that point now, and another is to be put in operation early next week.

The large dam and lock being installed above St. Paul, making the river navigable at that point, is also under way. At Keokuk there is some little work going on also.

Await Passage of Bill.

The officials are awaiting the passage of the bill by the senate. There is at present at hand for upper river work about $100,000, but such money is not being used, as the authorities believe it should be kept, should by any means the bill not be adopted.

It is very probable that the measure will pass the senate, however, since it secured such a big vote in the house. The officials will await its adoption before they proceed with more work.

The fund to be appropriated is available July 1 and many times before, especially during the long session of congress, the appropriation has come as late or even later than at present, on some occasions not having been made until July or August.

Crews of government boats, who have been laid off because their services will not be required until funds are at hand, men who operated dredges, quarrymen and laborers in brush camps comprise the 2,000 or more men who are affected.
